

WELCOME

to our water tower

Nice to have you with us.

Did you know that... ..the water tower, as it still stands today (partially), was built around 1874 as a blast furnace tower and commissioned for two blast furnaces? The tower was equipped with a shell elevator inside, which transported the ore mixture and coke to the top of the blast furnace ("blast furnace"). In 1901, it was converted into a water tower, which initially supplied water to the rolling mill and later to the nearby residential buildings. With great sensitivity and effort, the widely visible building was renovated and expanded starting in 2010 by architect Titus Pernthaler.

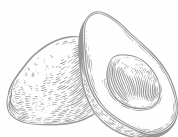

Connected to the Steirerschlossl through the arboretum, this "inspiring place" is an inspiring meeting place. A place for conversation, for relaxed moments, and for uncomplicated enjoyment.

Have a good time!

By the way: Our Panorama Bar can be booked exclusively for unforgettable personal or business events with a panoramic view.
